

EMMA'S FLAG Unfurled BRINGS WAR Of States IN HARLEM

Thomas Missouri Aiken Unwillingly Arouses Ire of Mrs. Delaware Johnson.

EVERYBODY JOINS IN.

St. Patrick's Day Episode at "Spade Flah Flat" in Harlem Is Full of Action.

HOT WATER AND RAZORS FLY.

Police Reserve Take a Hand and Make Arrests Amid Rain of Axes and Crowbars.

When Mr. Thomas Missouri Aiken came out on the flat from the second floor of No. 50 West One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street to-day it was with the most innocent intentions. The harmless action led to a riot, the calling out of the reserve, fusillades of shots, the falling of scores of revolvers and the scattering of many axes and other weapons.

JOHN E. REDMOND, M. P., SENDS GREETING.

(By Cable to The Evening World.)

LONDON, March 17.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

Sir: The St. Patrick's Day banquet in London, at which I presided last night, always is one of the significant events of the year, and one which points with the fidelity of a barometer to the position the Irish cause will assume.

The striking success of last night's banquet is therefore significant. Telegrams have come to me from the Irish World's Fair; they have come from New York, from Cape Town and from all parts of Great Britain.

Among the chief guests of the evening was Dr. O'Donnell, Bishop of Raphoe. Then there were subscriptions from nearly every Irish Bishop to the Parliamentary fund, all of which shows closer union of all ranks and classes in Ireland than has existed since the days of Parnell.

As to the future Chamberlain's letter to-day promises an early election, and an election will bring a Liberal majority which will willingly or unwillingly give Ireland in a great measure self-government.

JOHN E. REDMOND.

DRUGGED GIRL HE LURED AWAY

Florence Taylor, Who Was Induced to Leave Home on False Promises Found in Cemetery in Sad Plight.

(Special to The Evening World.)

WATERBURY, Conn., March 17.—What at first appeared to the residents of the Riverside Cemetery as an apparition and at whose appearance one woman became violently hysterical, several horses ran away and a whole street was thrown into a panic, proved to be a young woman driven insane through brutal treatment.

Only in the tatters of a chemise, with her hair flying loose, the girl was first seen dashing about among the graves in the cemetery. It was shortly before dawn, but the whole neighborhood was soon warned of the presence of the ghastly figure by a frightened farm hand.

When the police arrived they found a young woman of rare beauty, almost nude and terribly out of her mind, and the body of a young woman who had been found in the cemetery.

She was found in the cemetery, and the police were called to the scene. The girl was found in the cemetery, and the police were called to the scene.

ARMY CORNERED; CZAR DESPERATE

praise, and also disposes of the rumor that Kuropatkin had asked to be relieved.

The Russian military annals contain no more bitter imperial rebuke.

While it was known that the War Council had already decided to support Kuropatkin after the Mukden disaster, the decision to confer the task of saving the remainder of the army on Linvitch in the very midst of its flight, although bruited last night, came as a surprise.

New Route Forced Action.

It transpires that Emperor Nicholas, upon the advice of Gen. Dragomirov and War Minister Sakharov, determined that the step was necessary when it became apparent yesterday morning that Kuropatkin, while concentrating for a stand at Tie Pass, seemed unaware that the Japanese had worked around westward again, and practically allowed himself to be surprised.

Old reports brought by Gen. Gripenberg regarding Kuropatkin's failure completely broke down.

Under the circumstances, therefore, it was considered imperative in view of the exceedingly perilous position of the army, to turn over its command to Linvitch, who alone had been able to bring off his army in order after the battle of Mukden.

His record during the Chinese war had demonstrated his capacity as a commander.

Ordered to St. Petersburg.

Kuropatkin will return to St. Petersburg forthwith, and that she had been ordered to St. Petersburg.

Mamie Dennis, Supposed to Be Strangled, Died from Natural Causes.

AUTOPSY REVEALS IT.

Supposed to Have Taken Headache Powder in Resort She Visited with Companion.

MISSING SINCE WEDNESDAY.

First Belief Was that Girl Had Been Murdered—A Frequent Visitor at Resort in Newark.

Mamie Dennis, the young girl who was found dead in the Washington Hotel in Newark last night, and was at first believed by the police to have been strangled, was not murdered.

County Physician McKensie performed an autopsy on the body to-day and discovered that the girl died of heart disease, superinduced by a headache powder or some unusual excitement.

"There were no signs of violence anywhere about the body," said Dr. McKensie afterward. "The girl's heart was unusually small and very weak. I am informed that the man with her got her some headache powders yesterday, and it is quite likely that the notion of these on the heart caused her death."

The identity of the Dennis girl was established to-day by the Jersey City police. She was seventeen years old, and the only child of John H. Dennis, a painter, of No. 112 Hopkiss avenue, Jersey City Heights. She had always borne an excellent reputation.

For fifteen minutes the two conversed in low tones, and then the girl told Julia that the time was up. She replied: "What, so soon? I have just begun to talk." The couple then kissed several times and the girl left the jail.

Cordova was very restless after the jail. He walked up and down his cell and afterward conversed with the jailer.

"God picks out a mate for every man," he said. "God intended Julia for me. I made a horrible mistake when I married."
